Captain Jenks was about 60 years old, and well known in Paducah. He came here often and was known to every postoffice attache and to all the railway mail clerks in most of the cities and towns in Kentucky. He had not been here, however, in several weeks.

Captain Jenks was first appointed by General Grant, and had served in all about thirty years. He was at one time let out and for three years was not in the service. His total service, however, was about 30 years.

The territory over which Captain Jenks had supervision included most of Kentucky and he was a frequent visitor to this section of the state and was popular with those who knew him. He has a family in Louisville.

GRUESOME WORK GOES SLOWLY ON

524 Bodies Have Now Been Identified.

Less Than One Hundred Not Identified—Total List of Dead About 800.

UGLY STORIES ARE AFLOAT

New York, June 17.—The bodies of 524 persons who lost their lives in the General Slocum disaster Wednesday have been identified. The unidentified number 75. Six hundred are still reported missing.

At the morgue this morning out of 100 bodies 32 were identified. Commissioner of Charities Teller today issued an order that all bodies not identified this morning be embalmed.

The coroner's list shows 599 bodies of the Slocum victims recovered. Nearly 500 were claimed by friends or relatives and less than a hundred bodies remain on East pier. It is now believed the dead will number about eight hundred.

With unceasing effort the search is going on.

Police and health department officials placed the number at 1,000 and more, but today it would seem that the maximum fatality will not largely exceed 800.

Up the Sound, where the hulk of the General Slocum lies submerged, showing only a paddle box, scores of small craft are grappling for the victims. A score of times a diver reappeared after his plunge, with the body of a woman or child. Two of them coming to the surface together on one occasion, had in their arms two little girls—sisters—clashed in each other's embrace and their mother, it was thought, whose dead hand tightly clinched the skirt of one of them.

Although many of the bodies taken to the morgue were very badly mutilated, and the clothing in many cases almost entirely burned off, valuables have been taken from them and are in the keeping of city officials, to the extent of $300,000 or more. Several of the women and men had the savings of a life time on them when they perished.

One man says that a big white yacht passed the Slocum when the bodies of women and children were going overboard and did not even slacken speed. According to this man, the yacht flew the pennant of the New York Yacht club, but not the owner's pennant, which always signifies that he is aboard, and after passing the Slocum she steered over to the western shore and hove to, while on her bridge a man in uniform, with binoculars to his eyes, watched the vessel burn.

Even more horrible than this and similar acts of incredible callousness is the story of Miss Martha Weir, who says that while she struggled in the water a boat drew alongside of her and that men in the boat, after stripping her of her rings and other jewelry pushed her back into the water.

The body of the steward had been rifled when found, and of several hundred dollars he was supposed to have in his pockets not a cent was found.

WILL COMPANY I BE MUSTERED OUT?

Talk of it is Strengthened by Frankfort Dispatch.

Many of the Boys Will Be Greatly Disappointed If It Is.

NO NOTICE OF IT HERE YET

It has been persistently reported in Paducah during the past two or three days that the Paducah military company had been, or was going to be, mustered out of the state guards. One gentleman recently in Frankfort stated that he saw in Adjutant General Haley's office the order mustering the company out and demanding the return of the equipment.

The Sun today received the following telegram from Frankfort in response to an inquiry, indicating that there is something in the report:

"Evening Sun, Paducah—Order mustering out Paducah company not yet issued. Adjutant General out of town and cannot learn when such order will be issued."

Captain James Caldwell stated that he had heard nothing about it. It seems there has not been the greatest of harmony among some of the members of the local company, but Captain Caldwell and the officers have enforced excellent discipline and have one of the best companies in the state.

There are many of the boys who take a great interest in the company and hope it will be continued. It seems that those who have caused the discord are some who tried to do as they pleased and wouldn't attend drill, and were court-martialed for it, in jail for unpaid fines being likely for their infractions.

Many of the boys have been eagerly looking forward to the annual summer encampment at the world's fair, and if they are mustered out will be greatly disappointed.

It is claimed that there is no reason for mustering them out.

It has been suggested that the trouble can be easily remedied by the few malcontents being given their discharges and the company filled in with better men.

NEW MEN LIKELY MONDAY MORNING

Local Boiler Makers Refuse to Go Back to Work.

The Illinois Central Reports That Strikers Have Nearly All Returned to Work.

TWO SHOPS ARE STILL OUT

Local I. C. boilermaker strikers are adhering to the orders of their executive committee with remarkable persistency, notwithstanding the action of boilermakers over the entire system in returning to work after National President McNeill had announced he would not support the move and ordered the men back to work.

Superintendent A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the road, arrived last night from Louisville to look over the Paducah situation and stated at the Palmer last night that the Paducah shops would be opened immediately and if the men here would not return to work, others would be employed in their places.

"Boilermakers at Jackson, Tenn., Mattoon, Ill.; Effingham, Ill.; East St. Louis, Centralia, McCombs City, Miss.; DuBuque, Iowa; Council Bluffs, Iowa; Waterloo, Iowa; Memphis, Water Valley, Miss., and Carbonale," Mr. Egan stated, "have all returned to work after they saw the action of their executive board would not be supported by the national board and the president of the brotherhood, but the Paducah employees do not yet seem to recognize the latter's authority and persistently refuse to return to work. The situation has got to be immediately relieved and if the men remain out later than today we will likely have men in their places Monday."

Mr. H. C. McCourt, general superintendent of southern lines of the road, stated this morning to a Sun representative: "We intend to start the Paducah boiler shops up immediately and if we can not amicably place the men back to work, will secure others to take their places. We have explained why we can not grant a raise and the boilermakers have made a very unwise move. The machinists and carmen both asked for raises and a change of contract and we granted the contract changes but refused the raise and the terms."

Mr. McCourt has been here since the strike was inaugurated and will leave tonight or tomorrow for Memphis. He stated this morning that the Paducah shops and possibly the Chicago Burnside shops are the only cities where the strikers remain out.

READY TO MAKE ATTEMPT.

The work of raising the wrecked steamer Chattanooga will begin this afternoon and by tomorrow it will be known whether the boat can be successfully raised and repaired or not.

For the purpose of making it unanimous, Mr. Graves will come in today or tomorrow and ratify the action of the others.

KNIFE THRUST PROVED FATAL

Mack McCawley Died From His Wounds.

Tom Trammell in Jail for Malicious Cutting, Now Charged With Murder.

FOUGHT OVER A WOMAN

Mack McCawley, colored, who was out three weeks ago by Tom Trammell, colored, died last night at his home on Seventh street from pneumonia, superinduced by the wound he received in the fight.

Trammell, who was at large only a short time, was arrested and tried for malicious cutting, being held over for grand jury action. He is now in jail and the charge against him will doubtless be changed to murder and he will be tried for it at the September term of circuit court.

It is alleged that Trammell found McCawley talking to a woman in a house near Sixth and Trimble street Saturday night three weeks ago, and attacked him with a knife, cutting his arm, neck and left breast, the latter penetrating the lung.

McCawley did not appear to be much hurt, and was at police court the next day to swear out a warrant. Pneumonia developed, according to Dr. Van Davis, colored, and an inquest will probably be held to determine this fact.

ONLY RENEWED

NO CHANGE IN THE THOMPSON WILSON FIRM.

A Frankfort, Ky., dispatch today states that the Thompson-Wilson Wholesale Liquor company, of Paducah, today filed articles of incorporation at Frankfort with a capital stock of $100,000.

At the local office it was stated that this was simply a renewal of the company's incorporation papers, the amount being the same.

A telegram was received this morning from Marshall, Ill., announcing the accident. The victim is a retired farmer about 80 years of age and is deaf. It is supposed he did not hear the train.

The extent of the injury is not known, but on account of his age and the shock of the accident, it is thought he cannot recover.

Fell From an I. C. Trestle Near Marine Ways.

IS IN THE CITY HOSPITAL

Patrol Driver John Austin was called with his wagon to the I. C. trestle leading from First to Second street over the main ways hollow this morning about 5:30 o'clock to pick up an unknown man who had fallen off the trestle while drunk.

The fumes of liquor hovered about the man's clothing and when picked up he was unconscious and bleeding profusely from a deep wound in the top of the head. No one seemed to know the man and he was taken to the city hospital for treatment.

His skull is thought to be fractured, although this can not be determined at present. He is in addition suffering from concussion which may prolong his critical condition.

FREE AGAIN

BIBULOUS MIDGET RELEASED ON PROMISE TO REFORM.

Fred Helbyer, the midget tailor who jumped into the river yesterday morning early to elude police who were following him, was this morning released from the city prison.

Helbyer got heavily drunk in this condition attempted to carry timber away from the Wallerstein store and chairs from the Commercial hotel.

He explained to the court that he jumped in, because the police were after him. He did not remember taking several chairs and benches off the porch of the Commercial house and on promise to straighten up and do better, was released by Judge Sanders.

Helbyer presented a ludicrous appearance when released from the lock-up. His coat was missing and his sleeves hung a foot lower than his hands and were without buttons. His pants were too long for him and his felt hat was shapeliness and a size too large for him. He seemed confused when he reached the street and did not know which way to go, starting towards the river first and then towards Broadway. He was told to wash and clean up and not to drink any more and promised to do so.

Her Face and Arms.

Cuticura Saved Her Life, So Mother Says.

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good. In fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Sarsaparilla, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humor left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticura a fair trial." MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lebanon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1898.

Five years later, viz., Feb. 23, 1903, Mrs. Conrad writes:

"It is with measure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin."

Meet Me at the Inside Inn

NEVER BEFORE DID A GREAT
WORLD'S FAIR HAVE A BIG HOTEL INSIDE THE GROUNDS.

RATES WITHIN THE MEANS OF ALL.

"Meet me at the Inside Inn." That will be the expression most frequently heard at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This hotel is an immense structure, 400 feet wide and 800 feet long, with 2,357 sleeping rooms, and a dining room seating 2,500 persons. The hotel is inside the Exposition grounds, and operated under the supervision of the Exposition management. It is well appointed and furnished in modern up-to-date style, and will be the center of social affairs in the way of dinners and family reunions inside the grounds.

This hotel is in the southeast portion of the grounds, not far from the Plateau of States, and to the north a short distance are the famous Cascade Gardens, Festival Hall and Colonnade of States, which form a part of the main picture of the Exposition. Street, railroad running by the door go direct to the Union Railway Station downtown, and the Intramural road, inside the grounds, carries guests from the hotel entrance to all points of interest. Here is a cool retreat, where persons can find rest, enjoyment and quietude away from the noise and crush of the crowds along the avenues of the Exposition grounds. Sight-seeing at a large exposition is the most tiresome pleasure, because the mind is busily engaged and finds diversion by constantly changing scenes, while the body is becoming weary and the visitor does not realize how tired he is until he stops to rest. The place to rest is the Inside Inn. The hotel rates cover the daily admission fee to the grounds, and the registered guests at this hotel is free from the annoyance of pushing through the crowds at the gates. There are 500 rooms at $1.00 per person 500 at $2.00, 500 at $3.00.

The Inside Inn will long be remembered as a distinctive feature of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. A fair representing a total cost of $50,000,000, and as large in size as the Columbian, the Pan-American and the Paris Fairs combined.

The Indians lost the second game to the Lunatics yesterday afternoon at Wallace park through bad pitching of Brabie and several errors made at critical points of the game. The Indians were clearly beaten at the very outset when badly crippled by Land's place being filled by Gilligan, necessitating a change up of the entire team.

Land fell several days ago and badly injured his catching thumb and arms. He caught several times but at a disadvantage and the management decided to let him rest up a few days. Gilligan went behind the bat and did fairly well until he threw the ball away and let in two runs. Land was persuaded to go behind the bat after this and also made a wild throw letting in a score or two. Violet had bad luck on first base and made two errors but the principal factor in the victory of the visitors was the bad pitching of Brabie who did not seem to be himself. He walked several men and was freely hit.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The ghost walked—and the score was 10 to 3. We drew the tray. Well, they can't do it except right after pay day.

Let's don't start down hill, boys. It's a long way yet to the pennant. Hopkinsville's $100,000 man will be a good attraction next time he comes. He is handsome, refined and—well we don't see how he can escape. His name is a Mrre, pronounced "Marie."

Out of the eleven games postponed over the league on account of rain there yet remains five to be played off as follows: Paducah at Vincennes May 18, June 2, 4. Vincennes at Hopkinsville, May 26 and Clarksville at Henderson June 2.—Cairo Bulletin.

The Vincennes boys got in this morning and this afternoon made their initial appearance on Paducah ball grounds. They are a good looking set of ball players and have of late been working well together.

Paducah's team will remain partially crippled until Land gets back into the game. He will go home to Frankfort for a day or two and Gilligan or Harley will likely do the back stop work in his absence. Potts played short yesterday, Sherman second and McGill center field.

Setley is back to Paducah and will umpire today's and all subsequent games with Vincennes. He is the Paducah favorite, impartial to all and very strict in enforcement of discipline and the rules of the game.

Brady will pitch for Paducah today.

BAD INJURY

WELL KNOWN CARPENTER
THREATENED WITH BLOOD POISONING.

J. W. Boren, a well known carpenter, has a painfully injured left hand resulting, it is believed, from the bite of a fly on a scratch on the hand, which poisoned the scratch. The abrasion was received while at work and did not seem to pain him much until a fly lit on it and bit him. The hand then began swelling and Mr. Boren is now disabled, although no serious consequences are anticipated from the injury.

A Missouri Judge.

It does not always pay to appear too independent, especially in a courtroom. They are telling the following story on a former Missourian, who is now a judge in Oklahoma: A gambler was tried before the judge recently and convicted of playing poker. He appeared in court dressed in flashy style and with plenty of money in his pockets, apparently unconcerned as to the outcome of his trial. Looking over his spectacles, the judge in a squeaky voice said:

"Jim, stand up." The gambler obeyed.

"Jim, have you anything to say before I pass sentence on you?"

"No, sir."

"Jim, I'm agoin' to fine you $50."

"All right, judge," interrupted the gambler, "here it is in my hip pocket."

"And give you sixty days in jail," continued the judge. "Now, look and see if you've got that in your hip pocket, too."—Kansas City Star.

Are You a Lychnobite?

A day worker met some morning newspaper men, all of them being slightly "under the influence." In the conversation that ensued the day man said: "You lychnobites ought to go way back and sit down."

The objects of the epithet were much offended at its application to them, but were mollified when they found that the dictionary defines "lychnobite" as "one who works at night and sleeps by day."

This reminds one of the story of Daniel O'Connell, who vanquished a Billingsgate fishwoman by calling her a right-angled hypothenuse.—Typographical Journal.

Natives Spread Gospel.

The native agency in the missions of the American board has increased in number during the last decade from 2,600 to 3,581. This is in accordance with its settled policy of raising up native teachers to spread the gospel among their own people.

THE THIRD STREET
WORK DISCUSSED

Board of Public Works Do Not Fear Interference.

None of the New Work Can Be Started Inside of Sixty Days.

GOOD ORDINANCE IN EFFECT

The board of public works does not anticipate any trouble in regard to the street work to be done this year, although some of the members of the council, it is understood, are threatening to block legislation bearing on street improvements unless the board arranges not have Third street paved this year. "We have no objection to paving Third street this year if the general council wants it done," said a member of the board of works, today, "but we do not think it advisable this year. That's all. There is paving nearer the business center that should be done first. It is up to the council, however, to say what it wants done. We would not advise the paving of Third street this year. We have had the roller working on it now for some time to get it in shape to last until next year and do not understand why the work should be hurried through now. However, we have nothing to do about that. We wish we could pave every street in town, and if any councilmen are making that kind of a talk they can have. Third street paved to Clark's river for all we care. We think, however, that the councilmen will allow their better judgment to prevail when the matter is explained to them."

It is estimated that with all possible haste it will be sixty days or about August 1, before any work at all can be done on the street improvements.

In regard to improving South Tenth street south of Tennessee by grading and graveling, the board has reached no decision. The people want the improvement and the ordinance was passed about a year ago and the contract let to Mr. E. C. Terrell. There was some dirt to be removed and the city desired to buy it of Mr. Terrell and have it hauled to the Fourth street fill. The city wanted the property owners not only to pay for the street at 46 cents a yard, but an additional 18 cents for hauling the dirt.

Mr. Terrell realized that he could not collect from the property owners this additional 18 cents for hauling dirt for building a city fill, and declined to sign the contract unless the city agreed to pay it, and there the matter has remained until now. The property owners say they are willing to pay for the street, but not for hauling dirt for a fill for the city.

Today a much needed ordinance went into effect. It is now a misdemeanor to sweep dirt, trash, or anything else onto the street, sidewalk or other public place at any time. Heretofore every morning porters, clerks and others have been in the habit on Broadway of sweeping the dust, dirt and trash from stores onto the sidewalks or sweeping the sidewalks onto the streets and sometimes both. The ordinance recently passed prohibiting it went into effect yesterday, and today notice is being served. The board of public works will see that everybody is prosecuted who violates the law, as it is unhealthful and annoying. Several were stopped today by being told it is a $10 fine. They will first be warned and for the second offense warranted.

Cause for Mirth.

"Mary," said a Pine street lady to her cook the other morning, "I must insist that you keep better hours and that you have less company in the kitchen at night. Last night you kept me from sleeping because of the uproarious laughter of one of your woman friends." "Yis, mum, I know, but she couldn't help it. I was tellin' my lady friend how you tried to make cake one day."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MISSOURI JUSTICE.

Two Missouri hoodlums are to don stripes. The history of hoodluming in that state is well known, but the developments are more interesting.There have been eighteen convictions in all, eight of these cases having since been reversed by the court of appeals. Two of the alleged hoodlums were acquitted outright, and the two whose cases were Tuesday affirmed are the only two thus far to suffer for their crimes. They are Republicans, and as Missouri is Democratic this probably accounts for their conviction.The court of appeals has reversed every case reviewed in which the hoodlum was a Democrat.In the two cases affirmed the Republicans were charged with being bribed, and were convicted. The man alleged to have bribed them was a Democratic politician with a pull,
and he was acquitted of bribery on a technicality. Although the Republicans were convicted of being bribed, no one bribed them. They simply bribed themselves. Or possibly each bribed the other.Missouri's political courts seem to be as invincible as those in Kentucky.Owensboro has removed the lid from an official scandal and the entire city is aghast at the stench. The grossest and most indecent practices are alleged to have been sided and checked in the city workhouse by the keeper, who has been kicked out of office and fined in court. He was formerly a motorman and was given the job because of his political work, and not because of his fitness. As long as public offices are handed around as pie to the faithful such scandals may be expected. Whenever a person is given an office because of his politics and without regard to his competency, something may be expected to drop sooner or later.A deal has been said both in regard to Colorado's strike
and the authority the state has taken drastic measures to suppress it. The matter is to be decided by a federal court at St.

miners officials, and the governor and adjutant general have been cited to appear and show cause for holding him a prisoner. They now have a chance to defend their course, and their opponents have an equal opportunity to give their side. The court's judgment will doubtless show who is right.

It seems cruelly unjust to blame
the veteran captain of the General Slocum with the awful disaster in East river. He didn't start the fire and couldn't stop it. He couldn't prevent a panic; he couldn't stop the boat and allow the passengers to burn,
but reached the shore as soon as possible. The accounts indicate that everything possible was done by officers and crew, who were among the few who did not lose their heads, and that the horror was one of those unavoidable catastrophes that occur once in a great while to remind us of the uncertainty of life.

Kentucky did herself proud at the St. Louis dedication. It develops that this state has furnished Missouri with one-third of her governors and one-third of her senators, which probably accounts for the fact that she is now the fourth state in the union.
If St. Louis continues to treat Kentuckians as she did Wednesday, we will always be willing to furnish her with more.

The Globe-Democrat says that "the sort of political management that leaves nothing to chance has broken loose in the Democratic party of Illinois. Goebelism is triumphant in that organization. By the Goebel system the chairman of a state convention takes supreme control and pounds through the cut and dried machine program with his little gavel."
But the half has never been told.
That is only the beginning of Goebelism. There is worse to come, as Kentucky can attest.

Mayor Carter Harrison, of Chicago,
was pretty sore when he returned home from the Illinois Democratic convention, and testily declared that every whack of the arbitrary chair-man's gavel cost the Democratic ticket in Illinois a vote—and there were a good many raps of the gavel.
The Democrats all seem to want to lead, not follow, and when they don't get to do it the deuce is to pay.

The silence of Colonel Guffey, Pennsylvania's Democratic boss, is painfully annoying to the Parker men, because they can't tell which side of the fence he is on. They should remember, however, that Judge Parker
himself set the pace.

When Colonel Bryan gets through with his New York speech Judge Parker will no doubt wish all Democrats could appreciate the saying that
"silence is golden."

There are no mosquitoes on Louisiville. The health officer dopes them with petroleum and those that recover never return for a second dose.

Mr. Folk, of Missouri, says he would rather be governor than president, but the prospects are he will be troubled with neither place.

When we get the poles off Broadway
we'll begin to look like a city.

MR. F. M. FISHER RETURNS
FROM FIRST TRIP AS COM-MISSIONER.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher returned this morning from St. Louis, accompanied by their son, Harold, who has been attending school at Notre Dame, Ind., and joined them in St. Louis.

Mr. Fisher went to St. Louis to attend a meeting of the board of world's fair commissioners for Kentucky, to which he has recently been appointed.
The commissioners met to formally receive the Kentucky building, which was opened Wednesday.

Mr. Fisher says the building is one of the handsomest on the grounds, and was thronged with Kentuckians, all during Wednesday. The Kentucky party awakened much enthusiasm on all sides, and was given quite an ovation.

Each commissioner is on duty at the fair for two weeks. Mr. Fisher's time will extend from next Friday to July 4, and from August 15 to 23.

THE NEW CULVERTS
READY FOR USE NOWIllinois Central Begins Tearing
Out Trestles.The New Concrete Culverts Have Been Thoroughly Seasoned and Are Ready for Use.

TO GIVE A BETTER SERVICE

This morning workmen began tearing out the small bridges and trestles
on the Louisville division of the I. C.
where concrete culverts have been built, and it will require several weeks to complete the work.

Several years ago, the company began putting in concrete culverts
where small bridges and trestles stood,
and now that the culverts have been seasoned thoroughly and are strong enough to support all trains, the wood work will be torn away.

Two trestles at Stiles have already been torn down, leaving nothing but the culverts. This makes it possible for faster running and renders it safer.

There are eight large culverts and a number of smaller ones on this division and they have been in course of construction for the past two or three years. Mr. F. W. Katterjohn, of Paducah, having the contract for building them from New Orleans to Chicago, the total amount of his contract being over $1,000,000.

The concrete work is not only a costly improvement, but a good one which will last many years. The Illinois Central is putting it in wherever possible all over the system.

RACE NEWS

MAY BE FURNISHED BY THE CUMBERLAND COMPANY.

It is reported in some of the larger cities that the Cumberland Telephone company is preparing to succeed the Western Union Telegraph company
in furnishing race horse news to pool rooms all over the country.

The Western Union, which got about $6,000,000 a year for furnishing this class of service, recently had a spasm of virtue and stopped the service everywhere and the pool rooms
have since been in desperate straits.

It is generally understood that the Cumberland Telephone company will install a plant in a central part of the country and take the place of the Western union.

Manager A. L. Joynes, of Paducah, has heard the report, but has received no authentic information about it.

Paper.Captain Henry F. Smith, the general steamboat agent at the Fowler boat store, and formerly warden at the Eddyville penitentiary today
sports the smile "that don't wear off."

Captain Smith today received word that he won his suit against the Louisville Post in the court of appeals, the judgment of the Lyon circuit court being affirmed. He gets $4,200 and interest for four years.

When Captain Smith was warden at Eddyville the Post published an article relative to a Democratic barbecue
at Kuttawa Springs, saying that Captain Smith used meats and other supplies from the penitentiary, paid for by the state, to feed the people present. He sued, disapproved the charge in toto, recovered $4,200 and the case was finally settled yesterday when the court of appeals affirmed it.

Captain Smith has been a resident of Paducah for a year or more and is a very popular man.

MAY TRY AGAIN TO REFUND THE BONDSProposition to Issue New Ones for Over-the-River Bonds.The City Tried Several Years Ago to Refund But Didn't.

BONDS NOT DUE UNTIL 1927

The city has under advisement the matter of refunding the noted $100,000 over-the-river bonds. These bonds have about fifteen years to run, making them due in 1919. The city had a right to refund them after ten years,
however, and several years ago in accordance with this option, started to refund them.

Roberts & Co., of New York, agreed to take them at a lower rate
of interest than they were bearing, 4 1-2. Everything was prepared, the ordinance passed, and a contract entered into with the New York firm.

In the meantime dissension arose
among local Democratic officials,
some of whom thought they could refund the bonds at a still lower rate of interest than agreed on, and the old question of the invalidity of the bonds was sprung as an excuse for the city's refusal to comply with the contract and refund the bonds.

The question of validity had been ignored by other boards but it was taken up and the city's legal adviser
said the bonds could not be refunded because they were illegal by reason of two propositions having been voted on,
on the same day.

The city then refused to refund the bonds and when the next installment of interest fell due refused to pay the interest, being told by the city attorney that a city could not legally pay the interest on illegal bonds.

In the course of time the bond holders brought suit in federal court and won. Judge Evans deciding that the city owed the bonds and the interest.
The city was then $18,000 behind in interest. The New York bond company had also filed suit for breach of contract and this suit was a few weeks ago compromised by the city's paying $1,800 cash. This ended the first and only attempt to refund the bonds.

Another attempt may now be made, however. White & Co., the firm that refunded the $20,000 railroad shop bonds, wants to refund the $100,000 bonds and the finance committee of the general council will tonight discuss the advisability of it. The desire is to refund them at a lower rate of interest and thus save money. The other effort cost the city several thousand dollars.

PETITION BRING CIRCULATED
TO FREE ED SMITH.

An effort is to be made to secure a pardon for Ed Smith, of Fulton, who killed Captain Hardiman Robinson,
an Illinois Central employe and captain of the Fulton military company.
Smith while drunk shot Captain Robinson, who was quietly walking down the railroad track. He claimed it was an accident, and Captain Robinson was brought to Paducah, where he died in the railroad hospital a short time afterwards.

Smith was tried and given two years, and is now serving it in the Eddyville penitentiary. The petition for a pardon promises to bring out one equally as strong in opposition.

CAME TO BLOWS

INSPECTOR GARDNER AND CON-TRACTOR TERRELL START-ED TO FIGHT.

Contractor E. O. Terrell, who is building the brick street between Jefferson and Broadway on Fourth, and Mr. George Gardner, who is employed by the city as a special superintendent of the work, had a fist-fight this morning shortly before noon in which one blow is alleged to have been struck by each participant.

The difficulty started over the street work, Mr. Gardner suggesting certain methods of doing the work to which Mr. Terrell objected. Mr. Terrell, it is said, struck Mr. Gardner, who returned the blow. They were separated by the city engineer, Mr. L. A.
Washington, and neither bore any marks of the disagreement.

The two went before Magistrate J.
H. Burnett and surrendered. The case will probably be tried by that justice tomorrow morning.

A HOLE IN HER STOCKING.

Latest Device of the Girl Who Wants to Be Admired.

She was most fashionably gowned;
every particle of her attire was up to date, and every woman turned to give her a second look.
As she came to a crossing, however, she lifted her silken skirt a little higher, and, oh, horror!
there was a hole in her black silk stocking, disclosing the white flesh of her dainty ankle beneath. One could not help seeing it.

"Gracious!" said I to my wife,
"isn't it a shame that a young lady who is so well dressed should be so careless as to go about with a hole in her stocking?"

"Oh, you stupid," replied my wife,
"that's just like you men. Don't you know that there is a purpose in that?
That young lady has put that hole in her stocking purposely."

"Oh, nonsense!" I said.
"No nonsense about it. That young lady prides herself on her small ankle
and she is bound to attract attention to it. For that reason she has made a hole in her stocking, and she knows that every time she lifts her skirt
just a wee little bit persons are going to see that hole and admire that ankle."

"Well, she certainly has a pretty ankle," I said.
"Sir! how dare you?" almost screamed my wife.

I said no more, and the subject of holes in stockings was not discussed
any further.—New York Herald.

Government Gets Monopoly.

After Jan. 1, 1908, the German government will prohibit the use of yelow and white phosphorus in the manufacture of matches. It is believed that nervous caused by the worker handling phosphorus becomes hereditary. The government's report "on a safe and harmless process of match manufacture" practically turns matchmaking into a government monopoly
after the foregoing rate.

SHOW A BAD CONDITION OF THE BLOODWhen the blood is in bad condition a bruise, cut, scratch, or any slight injury to the flesh, is apt to become an ugly-looking sore or ulcer. Sometimes a boil, blister or pimple is the beginning of a large eating ulcer or open, discharging sore. Often the blood is naturally bad, and is that way from birth, and such people suffer with various kinds of sores from infancy through old age. Theblood may become so weak and watery from the effects of malarial sickness, debility or some old chronic trouble, that the impurities break out in bad sores on the lower extremities or other part of the body. There is always some morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood that keeps the sore discharging, and must be gotten out before it will heal. Washes and salves, while cleansing, soothing and helpful, will not do it, because they do not purify the poisoned blood; but S. S. S. cleanses and reaches the diseased blood, and when this is accomplished the place heals. Where the health has been impaired it restores strength and vigor to the system, improves the appetite and digestion, and tones up the nerves. Purifying the blood is the surest way to get rid of an old sore or ulcer. Medical advice is free.A common boil appeared on the calf of my right leg. I used the simple home remedies but the place refused to heal. The physician I consulted did me no good. My leg was a solid sore from calf to ankle, and I then began S. S. S. and I improved rapidly, but an attack of typhoid fever settled in the original sore, causing a backset. I began it again as soon as I was over the fever, and was completely and permanently cured.New Castle, Pa. MRS. K. A. DUFFY.

HAS TRIED BOTH

TRAVEL FOR HEALTH VS. DIETING.

A man who was sent to Europe for his health and finally found cure in a little change in his diet says:

"I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years and two doctors here in Kenosha that treated me for over a year both told me there was no help for me. Then I had an expert from Chicago but still received no relief; then followed another expert from Chicago who came to our house two times a month for four months. He gave me up like all the others and told me to take a trip across the ocean which I did in the year 1899 and came home about as bad as when I started. The doctors told me my stomach lining was full of sores. Then I began to study my own case and learned of the diet recommended by the Postum Cereal Co. so I gave up coffee, pork and all greasy foods and began using Postum Food coffee. Gradually I got better and better until I am well now as I ever was in my younger days, have no trouble and eat anything fit to eat.

"Sometimes away from home I am persuaded to drink coffee but I only take a sip of it for it tastes bitter and disagreeable to me but the longer I use Postum the better I like it and the better I feel. I could say a great deal more of my experience with Postum but think this will give everyone a good idea of what leaving off coffee and using Postum can do." A SMALL WRECK.

Two Illinois Central freight trains collided near Paducah Junction, below Fulton, Ky., yesterday, but did no damage of consequence except partially wrecking the two engines. H. Brown, the colored brakeman, saved himself by jumping, but had his back wrenched, being brought here last night and taken to the I. C. hospital for treatment.

TO TRY, TRY AGAIN.

Manager Roper, of the Western Union, is a patient man. He asked the general council several months ago to allow him to connect the Western Union private fire alarm system to the city system in order to turn in alarms direct, when necessary. The council "referred" the matter and that was the last of it. Manager Roper is going to make another effort to wake 'em up Monday night at the council meeting, and see if he can't at least get turned down.

A Suggestion for Prudent Men

To the average man five or ten dollars a month saved appears too insignificant to pay for the effort, yet a laying aside of ten dollars each month and the judicious investment of it may prove the beginning of a fortune. These ends are accomplished through the LEVEL PREMIUM SIX-YEAR BONDS of the Southern Mutual Investment Company of Lexington, Kentucky, which specifies the length of the investment period, seventy-four months, consequently the company may buy longer term securities than savings banks, which pay larger profits and are at the same time just as safe. The Southern Mutual Investment Company distributes all earnings amongst investors, in proportion to their investments. Furthermore, this company handles only the safest securities, taking no speculative chances, so that there is no possibility of loss to the bondholder, and he is further protected by the company's deposit of $100,000 with the Kentucky State Treasurer; by the facts that all officers and employees are heavily bonded in Fidelity Companies, and the business is controlled by state laws and under the supervision of state officials.

One unusually attractive feature of the Level Premium Six-Year Bond is that the redemption of coupons during the term of the contract secures an income to the bondholder, which, of course, may be compounded by reinvesting—a thing not accomplished under any other form of installment investment.

Men in any station of life may buy these bonds, and every one receives returns in absolute proportion to the size of the investment. The bond may be paid for by monthly installments of as little as $2.25, and any multiple of $2.25 may be invested.

This company, with its past experience and present earnings as criteria, estimates that on a net investment of $7.40 (extending over a period of seventy-four months) in this bond, the holder should receive a profit of $493.33 1/3.

Does any other institution, affording the same security, pay as great a profit in an equal period of time?

The Blazed Trail

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Copyright, 1902, by Stewart Edward White

He approached the skidway rapidly, laid his flexible rule across the face of each log, made a mark on his pine tablets in the column to which the log belonged, thrust the tablet in the pocket of his coat, seized a blue crayon, in a long holder, with which he made an S as indication that the log had been sealed, and finally tapped several times strongly with a sledge hammer. On the face of the hammer in relief was an M inside of a delta. This was the company's brand, and so the log was branded as belonging to them. He swarmed over the skidway, rapid and absorbed, in strange activity to the slower power of the actual skidding. In a moment he moved on to the next scene of operations without having said a word to any of the men.

"A fine thing," said Mike, spitting. So day after day the work went on. Rayway spent his time tramping through the woods, figuring on new work, showing the men how to do things better or differently, discussing minute expedients with the blacksmith, the carpenter, the cook.

He was not without his troubles. First he had not enough men, the snow lacked and then came too abundantly. Horses fell sick of colic or calked themselves, supplies ran low unexpectedly, trees turned out "punk," a certain bit of ground proved soft for traveling, and so on. At election time, of course, a number of the men went out.

And one evening, two days after election time, another and important character entered the North woods and our story.

CHAPTER II.

ON the evening in question some thirty or forty miles southeast of Rayway's camp a train was crawling over a badly laid track that led toward the Saginaw valley. The whole affair was very crude. To the edge of the right of way pushed the dense swamp, like a black curtain shutting the virgin country from the view of civilization. Across the snow were tracks of animals.

The train consisted of a string of freight cars—some divided-half-half, half freight and half passenger, and a day car occupied by two silent, awkward women and a child. In the smoke-lounged a dozen men. They were of various sizes and descriptions, but they all wore heavy blanket mackinaw coats, rubber shoes and thick German socks tied at the knee. The air was so thick with smoke that the men had difficulty in distinguishing objects across the length of the car.

The passengers sprawled in various attitudes, and their occupations were diverse. Three nearest the baggage room door attempted to sing, but without much success. A man in the corner breathed softly through a mouth organ, to the music of which his seat mate, leaning his head sideways, gave close attention. One big fellow with a square beard swaggered back and forth down the aisle offering to every one refreshment from a quart bottle. It was rarely refused. Of the dozen probably three-quarters were more or less drunk.

After a time the smoke became too dense. A short, thickset fellow with an evil, dark face coolly thrust his head through a window. The conductor, who, with the brakeman and baggage master, was seated in the baggage van, heard the jingle of glass. He arose.

"Guess I'll take up tickets," he remarked. "Perhaps it will quiet the boys down a little."

The conductor was a big man, raw-boned and broad, with a hawk face. His every motion showed lean, quick, pantherlike power.

"Let her went," replied the brakeman, rising as a matter of course to follow his chief.

The brakeman was stocky, short and long armed. In the old fighting days Michigan railroads chose their train officials with an eye to their superior deltoids. The two men loomed on the noisy smoking compartment.

"Tickets, please," clicked the conductor sharply.

Most of the men began to fumble about in their pockets, but the three singers and the man who had been offering the quart bottle did not stir.

"Ticket, Jack," repeated the conductor. "Come on, now."

The big bearded man leaned uncertainly against the seat.

"Now, look here, Bud," he urged in wheedling tones. "I ain't got no ticket. You know how it is. Bud, I blows my stakes." He fished uncertainly in his pocket and produced the quart bottle, nearly empty. "Have a drink?"

"No," said the conductor sharply.

"No right," replied Jack amiably. "Take one myself." He tipped the bottle, emptied it and buried it through a window. The conductor paid no apparent attention to the breaking of the glass.

"If you haven't any ticket, you'll have to get off," said he.

The big man straightened up.

"You go to blazes!" he snorted, and with the sole of his spiked boot delivered a mighty kick at the conductor's thigh.

The official, agile as a wildcat, leaped back, then forward and knocked the man half the length of the car. You see, he was used to it. Before Jack could regain his feet the official stood over him.

The three men in the corner had also risen and were staggering down the aisle intent on battle. The conductor took in the chances with professional rapidity.

"Get at 'em, Jimmy!" said he. And as the big man finally swayed to his feet he was seized by the collar and trousers in the grip known to "bouncers" everywhere, hustled to the door, which some one obligingly opened, and hurled from the moving train into the snow. The conductor took in the chances with professional rapidity.

The conductor returned to find a rolling, kicking, gouging mass of kinetic energy knocking the varnish off all one end of the car. A head appearing, he coolly batted it three times against a corner of the seat arm, after which he pulled the contestant out by the hair and threw him into a seat, where he lay limp. Then it could be seen that Jimmy had clasped tight in his embrace a leg each of the other two. He hugged them close to his breast and jammed his face down against them to protect his features. They could pound the top of his head and welcome. The only thing he really feared was a kick in the side, and for that there was hardly room.

The conductor stood over the heap, at a manifest advantage.

"You lumber jacks had enough, or do you want to catch it plenty?"

The men, drunk though they were, realized they had had enough. Jimmy thereupon released them and stood up, brushing down his tousled hair with his stubby fingers.

"Now, is it ticket or bounce?" inquired the conductor.

After some difficulty and grumbling the two paid their fare and that of the third, who was still dazed.

The interested spectators of the little drama included two men near the water cooler who were perfectly sober. One of them was perhaps past the best of life, but still straight and vigorous. His lean face was rather brown in contrast to a long mustache and heavy eyebrows bleached nearly white. His eyes were a clear, steady blue and his frame was slender, but wiry. He wore the regulation mackinaw blanket coat, a peaked cap with an extraordinary high crown and buckskin moccasins over long stockings.

The other was younger, not more than twenty-six perhaps, with the clean cut, regular features we have come to consider typically American. Eyebrows that curved far down along the temples and eyelashes of a darkness in contrast to the prevailing note of his complexion combined to lend him a rather brooding, soft and melancholy air which a very cursory second examination showed to be fictitious. His eyes, like the woodman's, were steady, but inquiring. His jaw was square and settled, his mouth straight. Unlike the other inmates of the car he wore an ordinary business suit, somewhat worn, but of good cut and a style that showed even over the soft flannel shirt. The trousers were, however, bound inside the usual socks and rubbers.

He was seized by the collar.

"Now I want you to take these cats away so they can find good homes," remarked the lady as she showed the old colored man the felines she wished taken away in a sack. "And don't you dare drown them or kill them, for I don't want them to be harmed in any way."

"Yessum," replied the old darkey. "Dey aint no dangah, missus. Dis niggah aint nebbah gwine to kill a cat, specially a black cat," maam. All de money in town wouldn't git dis niggah to 'sterminate one of dem debbil cats."

"Why do you call them 'devil cats'?"

"Case dey is. 'Case de debbil is sho' in 'em. I see knowed dat ebbaah sense I wuz bo'n."

"How do you know it," he was asked.

"Kase de black cat am a hoodoo. A black cat can give a man powah to do anything he 'ants ter, ef he only goes 'bout hit de right way. I knowed a man once wuz had eyes like coals, on he could do ennything he wanted to. De way he got so pow'ful was from a black cat."

"Well how did he do it?" asked the lady with an amused smile.

"How'd he do it? I'll 'splain, so's ef yo ebbaah wants ter try it you'll know how."

"He den tuk a black cat, boiled 'im ontill de flesh drapped offen de bones, and den tuk de bone sinter de room and stood a holdin' dem befo' de glass. He'nd draw each bone acrost his lip, one at de time. When he reached de right bone, he couldn't see hisself in de glass any longer an de bone bu'nt his lip, and his eyes gets red like coals. He's a hoodoo doctah den an' dat man kin do ennything he wants to. I see seed it tried. He kin do jes' ennything an' he nebbah dies," he declared.

He didn't explain, however, how a person superstitions enough to do all that, could use the black cat's bones without killing it.

Wright Lorimer, whose magnificent production of "The Shepherd King," at the Knickerbocker Theater in New York attracted so much comment, is quite apt with Biblical quotations and stories relating thereto.

He told one the other day at the Players' Club about a preacher who had chosen as his text "Thou Art Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting."

"As his discourse was rather long," said Mr. Lorimer, "I arose and started to go out before the sermon was finished. The preacher stopped, adjusted his spectacles, and quietly remarked—"Thats right, young man; as fast as you are weighed pass out."

A druggist who is a great student of human nature said yesterday: "People often come in here and say, 'Oh doctor, I want some more of that medicine you gave me before for colic.'"

"How long ago was it?" I ask.

"Oh, about three years ago, doctor," is the reply I got many a time.

"Of course they don't know that a man couldn't possibly remember what it was he sold them three years back when hundreds and thousands of people have been waited on since, but I always manage to sell them the medicine just the same. You see humanity is easily fooled. They think it is the same medicine and never know any better or any difference. That's the way we get even with them for expecting us to remember so far back. Whenever we run across anyone so silly as to think a man can remember what he sold his customers three years back, we know he or she is foolish enough to buy anything we hand out."

The tamala and hamburger man can't stay on the corner any more and scent the atmosphere in one place with onions and fried flesh. He is required to "move on" and give every locality a chance.

An interesting old relic is a musket President Robert Reeves, of the First National Bank, received yesterday from Boise City, Idaho. It has been in the family many years, and is at least 110 years old, possibly 180. His great grandfather brought the weapon to America many years ago, and it has since been in the family. It has the name of the maker, Stoffel Smith, with the date, either 1724 or 1794, at the barrel. Originally the long fire arm was a flint-lock, but was later made for cap and ball. Mr. Reeves hunted with it when a boy and his father owned it. In late years it had been in the family of his late brother, Attorney William Reeves, at Boise City, Idaho, and after his death his sons decided to send it to their uncle here, who received it yesterday.

ROBBED CAR

Boys Break Into Street Car Strong Box.

Secured Nothing As the Box Was Empty.

Last night some one broke into the fare box of street car 67 which was left standing at Fourth and Jefferson streets.

The cars can not be brought to the shed on account of improvements to Fourth street and after they stopped last night, boys, it is thought, broke into the fare box but got nothing as the boxes had been opened and the money taken out by the superintendent last night.

A ticket and a dime were left on one of the "shifts" and the reason the car men think boys broke into the box is that they did not know how to work the shift.

Suffering Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it are wrong. Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves. A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

TWO BURNED

Houses in Rowlandtown Destroyed Last Night.

Water Mains Do Not Extend That Far Out—One House Saved.

Two frame dwellings burned at Rowlandtown about 10:30 o'clock last night, and a third was damaged.

The homes of W. E. Walker and K. D. Sewell were the ones destroyed, and the home of Ed. Martina was damaged. Mr. Walker and family were away from home, but the blaze originated at Mr. Sewell's. He lost the house and nearly all of the household goods, but neighbors broke into Mr. Walker's and succeeded in getting most of the household effects out before the structure burned.

The fire department was called out but was unable to render much assistance on account of the long run and the fact that water mains do not extend that far out. The houses were on Selma avenue, back of the Griffith dairy.

Chief Wood and his men, with the chemical engine and by means of water drawn from wells, however, did good work in saving the Martina house. The loss from the conflagration will amount to several hundred dollars, with partial insurance. Both gentlemen owned their homes.

HEALTHY MOTHERS.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Bochee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles 25c; large size 75c. At DuBois, Kolb & Co.

THE BENTON COURT IS ABOUT OVER

Judge Reed Disposes of Sixty-Five Leases.

Benton Woman Gets Out of a Murder Charge on the Insanity Dodge.

SPECIAL FOR HOLLAND CASE

The criminal docket in the Marshall circuit court has been disposed of by Judge W. M. Reed, who has made a record there as he did here. Court began at Benton Tuesday and was finished last evening. There were 65 cases and the juries were discharged yesterday at noon.

The most important case tried was that against Mrs. Martha Burtram for murdering Arlie Johnson, a woman with whom the Burtram woman's worthless husband was intimate. She entered a plea of temporary insanity and the jury acquitted her on these grounds.

Other cases were disposed of as follows: W. R. Burtram, selling liquor without license, fined $50 in two cases; Tom Griffith for furnishing liquor to a minor, dismissed; Mollie Burtram, selling liquor without license, dismissed; Howard Suttles, malicious shooting, fined $50; Irvan Vaughn, breach of the peace, $7.50; Jordan Burtram, selling liquor without license, $75 and 15 days in jail; Court Ford, breach of the peace, $10; Lark Stephenson, selling liquor without license, dismissed; O. A. Seay, petit larceny, acquitted.

The case against Sheriff Walter Holland, of Murray, for killing Hardy Keys, will come up on the 27th at a special sitting of the court.

This morning Judge Reed returned to Benton to call the equity docket and stated he would finish this term of court by Tuesday at noon.

Commonwealth Attorney John G. Lovett is ill and Attorney J. M. Werten, of the city, is acting in his place.
